

Outcross OxO to wild-type trees over five generations to increase diversity and minimize inbreeding

Increasing numbers of WT parents each generation is an efficient method to increase  $N_e$  and minimize inbreeding (see Westbrook et al., 2019 for details)